PROF. H. SHEFF,

THIRD MEETING

Of the Good Citizenship Beries Held Last Evening at

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

And Attended by a Large Audience Which was Largely Made up of Women-Rev. Dr. Wishart, of Allegheny, Advises the People to Throw Politics Out of Municipal Affairs-Other Meetings Next Week.

The third meeting of the series of "Good Government" gatherings was held last night at the United Presbyterian church and the attendance was large. The large edifice was comfortably filled, but, as has been the case heretofore, the women outnumbered the men to a large degree.

The principal speaker was Rev. W. I. Wishart, of Allegheny, and his remarks were of the most entertaining character. Dr. Wishart is an eloquent speaker, and has a way of bringing out his points that is pleasant and effective.

The meeting was called to order by Rev. J. H. Littell, of the United Pres-byterian church, who announced the hymn, after the singing of which, Rev. C. M. Oliphant, of the First Christian church, led the congregation in prayer. The scripture reading followed by Rev. Littell, who then introduced the speaker, Rev. Wishart, of Allegheny.

The speaker began by referring to the fact that he was a stranger in the city, but from what he had heard and read, the city was sadly in need of a better and more stringent government. He said that in most communities the trouble is that the citizens pay entirely too much attention to party ties in municipal elections. Democrats with vote the Democratic ticket, and the Republicans will vote the Republican ticket, no matter who the men are. There is altogether too much "boss-ism," and the voters are not permitted to think for themselves, but go blindly to the polls on election day and cast their ballots for men who have been placed on the tickets by the leaders of the two parties.

He had seen this practiced so long in Pittsburgh, that he felt sure the time was near at hand when the better class of citizens, the Christian people, would raise in their might and stamp party politics out of municipal elections, and appoint only pure servants to the offices of trust in every city.

"What we need more than anything cise," said the speaker, "is co-operation. The enemy is united and always has been. It remains for the believers in good government to be the same Every church goer and every Christian, no matter what his creed may be, no matter what denomination, should stand shoulder to shoulder, ready to fight the common foe. If we can't all think alike we can love alike."

The speaker said that as time goes on the churches of various denominations do not stand apart as they formerly have. Each day brings them closer together, and the time has arrived when all have come to the conclusion that the Christians are forgetting that they be-long to different denominations, and remembering that all are battling for the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He drew a pretty picture of General Phil. Sheridan in battle, and how, when the great warrior saw the enemy's column wavering the least bit, he gave the com-mand for all his forces to advance; all did advance, and a glorious victory was the result.

He urged his hearers to keep at the work and not let it die out in a month or a year or two years, but to keep right on and go iff to win. He said he did not believe in being spasmodic; there is too much of that. Even in Pittsburgh, where the church people had an excellent organization, they grew tired. The moral strain was too great and they gave it up, just before the victory was won. What is needed more than anything else in this move ment is manly independence. Men in power who will not bow to Mammon or political bosses; men whom the lust of office will not corrupt.

And while these things are pretty bad, remember they could be a great deal worse. He did not believe in being too pessimistic. Some people in th work, when they look about them and see they are not accomplishing as much good as they think they should, get as blue as indigo. Things are bad enough, but remember thay are not as bad as they used to be. The world is improving and the improvement is going to continue. The people are united and are going to stand for righteousness, and the twentieth century will be vast-ly better than the nineteenth has been. The improvement will be brought about by the Gospel and not by any social fanaticism or by spasmodic movement.

What we want to do is to take off these blue goggles from our eyes and let God's pure sunlight shine in our faces. He closed by urging his hearers to remain steadfast in the good work they had begun, and not to become weary of well doing. At the conclusion of his remarks he was applauded heart-

Rev. Mr. Littell then introduced Rev J. L. Sooy, D. D., of the Fourth street M. E. church, who is the chalrman of the "Good Government" executive committee, who briefly thanked Rev. Dr. Wishart for his presence in the city and the spiendid address he had delivered in behalf of the work. He then announced that this evening the meeting would be held in the First English Lutheran church on Sixteenth street, and would be addressed by Mr. J. How-ard Holt, of Moundaville, and Rev. R. R. Bigger, of the Third Presbyterian church. Dr. Sooy also announced that the meetings would continue next week on the same evenings as this week and at the same churches. On Monday night at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at the Fourth street M. E. church, Thursday evening at the United Presbyterian church and Friday evening at the First English Lutheran church. The speakers for these meetings have not been selected.

After the announcements had been made and a hymn sung. Dr. Wishart pronounced the benediction and the meeting was at an end,
